FOREWARD

The 1955 edition of the Jackeleer carries the most extensive photographic display ever used in an Albert Harris annual.

Aided, to a great extent, by the enthusiastic "shutter-bugs" of the Camera Club who caught many on-the-spot shots, this year's book gives to its readers a graphic, day-by-day account of the ever increasing educational, recreational and spiritual activities in which students are engaged "on the hill."

It is the hope of the Senior Class that the following pictorial outlay will show proof that the full development of our future community workers is of daily concern in our high school.

Virgia Hobson, Guidance Director; J. Elmer Turner, Principal; W. Lawrence Jones, Supervisor-Assistant Principal.

ADMINISTRATION

MESSAGE FROM PRINCIPAL

I consider it a privilege each year to be called upon to extend greetings to the Senior Class — the Class of 1955, of course, is no exception.

It goes without saying that we have enjoyed working with you for the past five years as high school pupils. For me, I have seen you develop since you were in the third grade. You represent one of our very best classes to graduate under our directions. We will be highly disappointed should some of you not become outstanding leaders in various fields. We are expecting all of you to become good law abiding citizens with a spirit of cooperation and a willingness to give of yourselves, at all times, help to others.

As usual I join you in thanking the business concerns in our area for making this production of the Jackeleer possible.

I seriously and strongly recommend to you the following lines from "A Creed" by Edwin Markham.

"There is a destiny that makes us brothers;
None goes his way alone:
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own."

J. ELMER TURNER

DEDICATION

The 1955 Jackeleer is lovingly dedicated to one who has given unselfishly of her energies, wisdom and understanding.

A born artist, a faithful friend and a lover of young people, she is truly deserving of this enshrinement, not only in this edition, but in our hearts.

Hollywood, California

June, 1965

Tonight, in the Stork Club, is the scene of a reunion for forty-one young men and women who were graduated from Albert Harris High in 1955. Not since the night of graduation has the class been so nearly intact.

During the dinner and dance, many experiences, old and new, are being exchanged.

Serving as hostesses at this elaborate dinner are two lovely registered nurses of a notable hospital in Detroit, Michigan; Doris Hairston and Venora Hairston.

The ballroom was designed and constructed by Clifford Hairston, the famous architect.

The first to arrive is the graceful, well poised ballet dancer, Barbara Strawn, and her brother, William—a successful contractor. Next week Barbara is making her debut at the Waldorf Theater. They greet their old friends Doris and Venora and take their specified places around the banquet table.

Next to arrive are the most handsome boys of the class of '55, none other than Tommy Bowles, Bernard Dalton, Willie Carter, Michael Draper, and Curtis Mitchell. They are now serving their country in the United States Air Force. With them are their beautiful wives whom they met and married while overseas.

It is now about 9:00 P.M. and all the guests have arrived and are seated around the table. At the head of the table is our eminent class president of '55, Adele Brown, the successful secondary education teacher at our old Alma Mater. To the left of her is the famous statistician of Howard University, Jeanette Still, and to the right, the notable mathematician of U.C.L.A., Shirley Hairston. Shirley is thinking of retiring after another year at U.C.L.A. and beginning a tour to all European countries, for it has always been her desire to travel.

Following Shirley are Julia Burgess, Ammie Gravely and Larnear Napper, now heading the nursing staff at Harlem Hospital in New York. Ressie Mitchell, Mary Millner, Rubena King and Vergie Hairston just flew in from Chicago, where they are employed at Cook County Hospital. Julia began as a Registered Nurse at The Harlem Hospital, but is now private nurse to the President of the United States.

Seated near them are none other than the three most successful stenographers, Cora Carson, Alberta Hairston, and Marian Jones. Their salaries are from $50 to $75 a week without extra hours and a five weeks' vacation with pay. Joan Hylton is private secretary to the wealthy Rockefeller.

Next to them are Moses Dalton, owner of Dalton's Printing Shop in New York City, and Gwendolyn Pritchett, a journalist of the New York Times staff.

Carl Dones, the mortician of our fair city, is seated beside the two successful beauticians, Malena Young and Ophelia Schofield, and the barber, Charlie Carter. Malena has her own beauty salon in gay Paris and is noted for her creative hair styles.

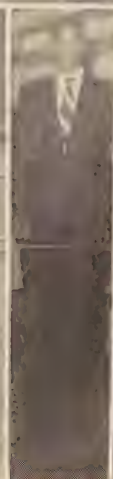

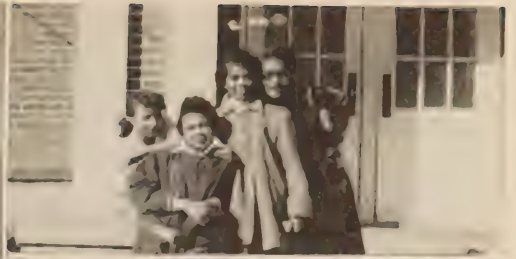

At the end of the table is Christine Fuller, an elementary teacher of our old Alma Mater. To her left is Jean Patterson, who teaches foreign language at Morgan State College, where she commenced her education in foreign language. To her right are Cornell Seay and Gloria Hodge, home economic teachers at Langston High in Danville, Virginia, and Dunbar High in Lynchburg, Virginia. Costella Holland has her own little dress shop on 5th Avenue, in New York City, where she designs and makes her own clothes.

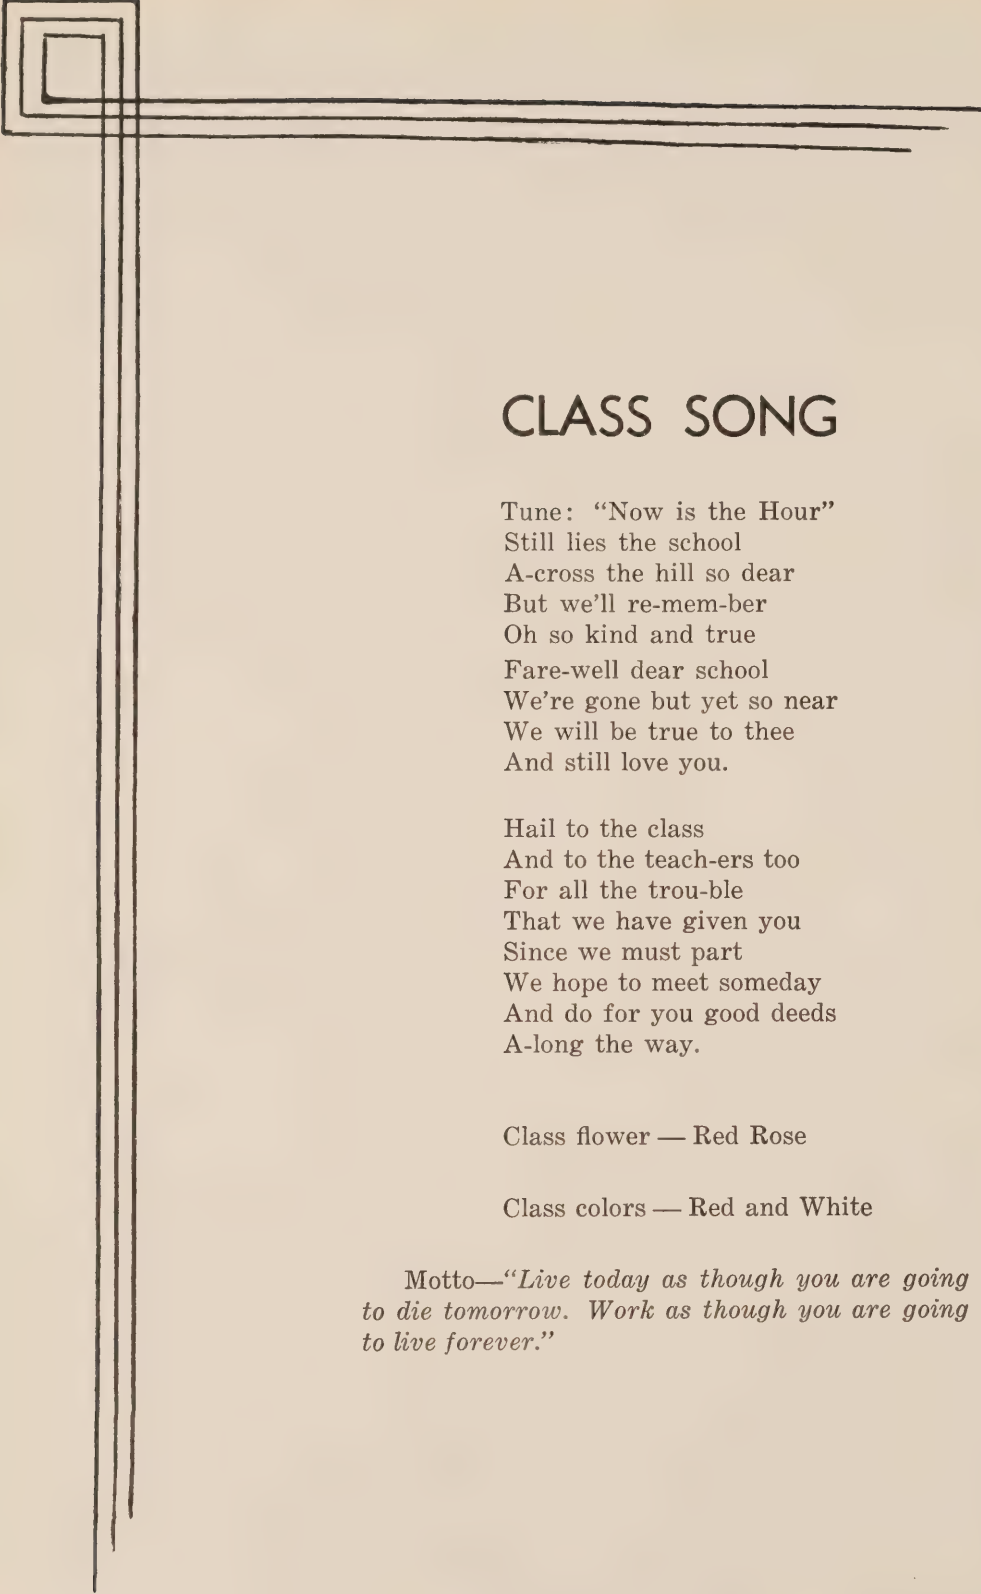

Sonya Walker, who is now serving her country in the Air Force with Bernard, Tommy, Curtis, Willie and Michael, is here on a weekend pass. She says that she enjoys the exciting and adventurous life and has decided to enlist for six more years.

Seated by William Strawn is another successful contractor, Leon Hairston. They talk, discuss and compare their respective businesses. William finds that he is only making about $50 more than Leon, because Leon makes $275 a week but William makes $325 a week with the same working hours.

There has been a slight mistake made, because all the guests are not here. Alma McGhee is absent because she is now serving as a Nun at the Xavier University, and was unable to come. However, she sends us all greetings and the best of luck in the years that follow.

Yes, this dinner and dance is not only supplying us food and entertainment but is helping us recollect our happy, carefree days at Albert Harris High. True, we are still far from old, but the grey hair that appears here and there testifies to a struggle, well fought. We feel, on this night of nights, our toughest battles are far, far, behind us, and we are a group of men and women of whom society is and always will be justly proud.

CLASS SONG

Tune: "Now is the Hour"
Still lies the school
A-cross the hill so dear
But we'll re-mem-ber
Oh so kind and true
Fare-well dear school
We're gone but yet so near
We will be true to thee
And still love you.

Hail to the class
And to the teach-ers too
For all the trou-ble
That we have given you
Since we must part
We hope to meet someday
And do for you good deeds
A-long the way.
